WARSAW, Ind., Sept. 02, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lake City Bank opened its newest branch in Westfield, Indiana, on September 2, 2025. The new branch marks the bank's 55 th office overall and ninth office in the Indianapolis Region.

"We're happy to open a Lake City Bank office in the heart of downtown Westfield," said David M. Findlay, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "We are confident that our 153-year history as a community bank will bring a welcome commitment to the Westfield community. We are excited to expand our relationships in Westfield and become a part of the vibrant downtown community with strong economic development momentum around us."

The full-service office is located at 170 Jersey St. and is part The Union at Grand Junction development in downtown Westfield. The development overlooks Grand Junction Plaza and includes apartments, retail and office space, restaurants and public parking. In addition to the new branch, Lake City Bank is a financing partner for the development.

"Similar to our recent branch openings in Indianapolis' 16 Tech campus and Elkhart's River District, this mixed-use development fits perfectly with our approach to expanding our footprint. It is an ideal location for our customer-focused team to build upon our strong existing relationships in Westfield and engage with the community," said Stephanie R. Leniski, Executive Vice President and Chief Retail Banking Officer.

To manage the Westfield office, Stacy R. Oswald, Vice President, Retail Banking Officer, moved to the new location from the bank's Fishers office. She joined the bank in 2024 and has 23 years of experience in financial services. She is a Westfield resident and is active in the community.
